FREE CASE FILE · NOT IN THE BOOKS

THE CASE OF THE FLYING SAUSAGE DOG

SATURDAY · KITE DAY ON THE VILLAGE GREEN · 12.30 TO 1.00

It was Conkerbury Kite Day, the windiest Saturday of the year. The village green was full of kites: diamond kites, box kites, a kite shaped like a goldfish and one shaped like Mr Fenwick's prize marrow.

But the best kite of all belonged to the after-school Kite Club. They had spent six whole weeks making it out of brown tissue paper, garden canes and a LOT of glue. It was a giant sausage dog, with floppy paper ears, a red collar and a tiny paper deerstalker. Its name was Sir Biscuit the Magnificent.

The real Biscuit was not sure about it. He growled at it every time the wind made its ears flap.

At half past twelve, Mrs Lark hung Sir Biscuit on the big hook at the front of the Kite Club tent, ready for the competition at two o'clock. Then everyone went off for lunch.

At one o'clock, Mrs Lark came back with a cup of tea. The hook was empty. Sir Biscuit the Magnificent had vanished.

"Six members of Kite Club were on the green at lunchtime," said Mrs Lark, looking very pale. "And the competition starts in one hour!"

The poster Kite Club put up at 1.05.

DIFFICULTY ●●○○○

Rookie to Junior · ages 8–12 · about 30–45 minutes

PRIYA: "One hour," said Priya, opening her notebook. "That's plenty of time. Ollie, you talk to the witnesses. Ffion, measure everything. Alfie, we need a map. Biscuit … try not to growl at anyone."

YOUR MISSION

Work out WHO took Sir Biscuit the Magnificent between 12.30 and 1.00, and WHERE they hid it. Use the suspect cards, the map and the clues. All you need is a pencil. A real detective never guesses: every cross needs a clue!

MEET THE CONKERBURY DETECTIVES

Priya, the Brains, writes down every clue. Ollie, the Legs, knows everyone and gets the statements. Ffion, the Measurer, never goes anywhere without her tape measure. Alfie, the Lookout, draws maps and spots patterns. Biscuit, the Nose, wears a tiny deerstalker and tries to eat the evidence.

conkerburydetectives.co.uk · Free to print and copy for home and classroom use. Not for resale.
© 2026 Inspector Cuthbert Conkerworth · The Conkerbury Detectives

THE SUSPECTS

Six members of Kite Club were on the green between 12.30 and 1.00. One of them took Sir Biscuit the Magnificent. Each suspect has a code word: you'll need it for the answer code.

A MAX THORNBURY

Year: Year 6
Shoes: Wellies
Height: 146 cm
At lunchtime: "Eating my sandwiches. On my own."

"I don't even LIKE sausage dogs. Well, maybe a bit."

Code word: BREEZE

B HARVEY PIKE

Year: Year 6
Shoes: Wellies
Height: 152 cm
At lunchtime: "Looking for my lucky kite string."

"I lose everything. I lost my lunch once. It was in my hat."

Code word: CLOUD

C IVY CHEN

Year: Year 5
Shoes: Trainers
Height: 141 cm
At lunchtime: "Working on a story for my newspaper."

"A missing kite? This is FRONT PAGE news!"

Code word: THUNDER

D RUBY OKAFOR

Year: Year 6
Shoes: Smart shoes
Height: 148 cm
At lunchtime: "Walking round the green, thinking."

"I was the one who glued the ears on. I'd never take him."

Code word: RAINBOW

E NOAH PRICE

Year: Year 5
Shoes: Trainers
Height: 134 cm
At lunchtime: "Watching the clouds. Did you know clouds can weigh as much as a hundred elephants?"

"I didn't see anything. I was looking UP."

Code word: DRIZZLE

F TOMASZ NOWAK

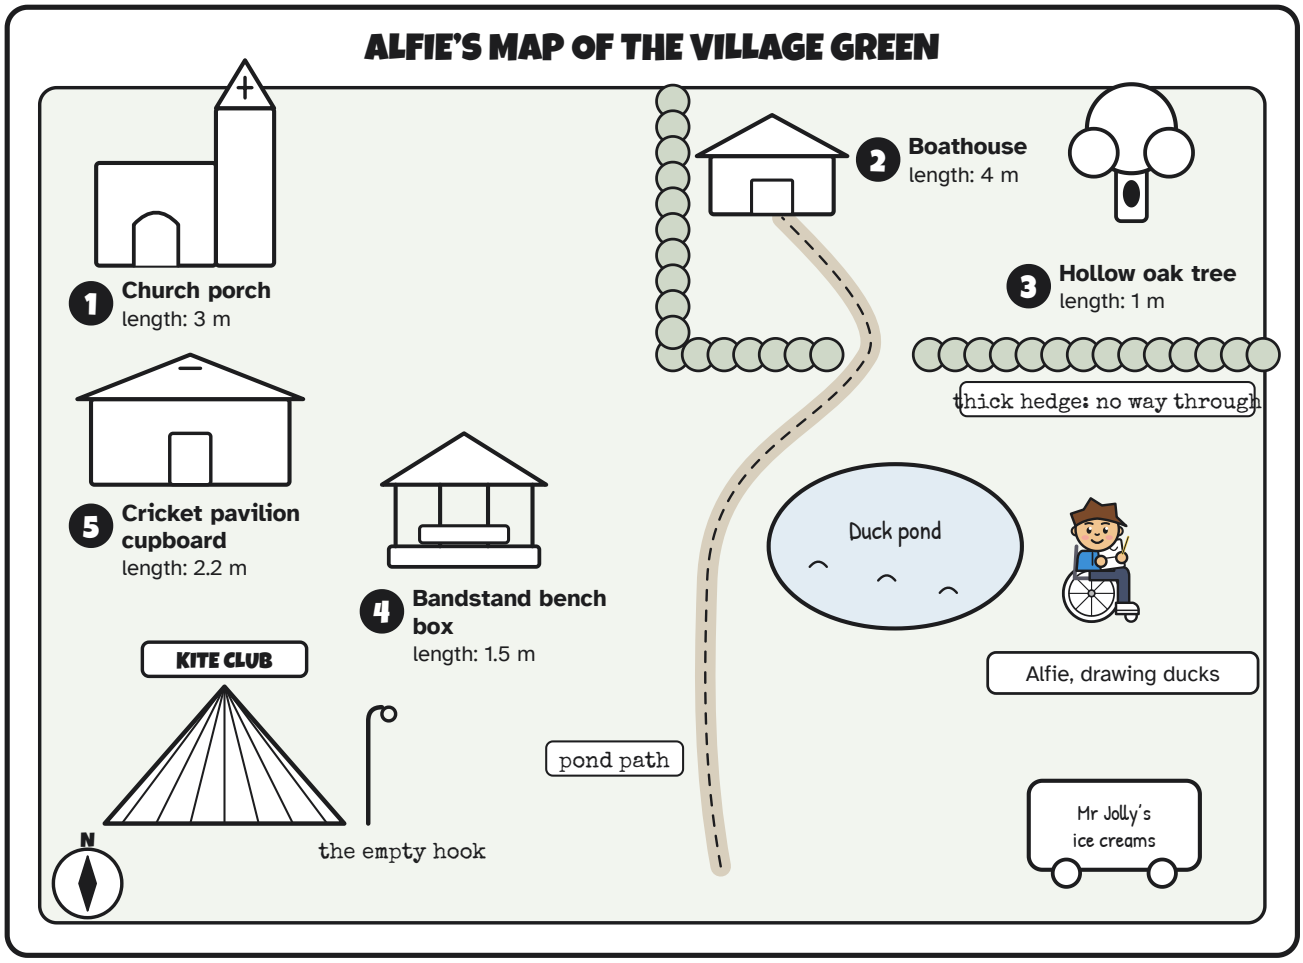

Year: Year 3
Shoes: Trainers
Height: 124 cm
At lunchtime: "Playing tag. I won. I think."

"I helped paint his nose! It's the best bit."

Code word: PUDDLE

conkerburydetectives.co.uk · Free to print and copy for home and classroom use. Not for resale.
© 2026 Inspector Cuthbert Conkerworth · The Conkerbury Detectives

THE SCENE

Alfie drew this map. The thick hedge fences off the boathouse (2) and the hollow oak (3): the only way to reach them is along the pond path. Each hiding place has its length written underneath. Sir Biscuit the Magnificent is 1.8 m long.

THE EVIDENCE

E1 THE FOOTPRINTS

In the soft mud under the hook, Biscuit sniffed out a set of fresh footprints. They have a zigzag pattern: the person who took the kite was wearing trainers.

E2 THE HIGH HOOK

Ffion measured the hook: it is 1.6 metres off the ground. She tested it with a broom. "You need to be at least 130 cm tall to lift the kite off that hook," she said.

E3 THE STIFF SPINE

Sir Biscuit is 1.8 metres long, and his spine is a stiff garden cane. He can't bend or fold. He can only be hidden in a place that is longer than 1.8 metres. The lengths are on Alfie's map.

conkerburydetectives.co.uk · Free to print and copy for home and classroom use. Not for resale.
© 2026 Inspector Cuthbert Conkerworth · The Conkerbury Detectives

THE WITNESSES

W1 MR FENWICK

"I locked the church porch at twelve o'clock, and the key has been in my pocket ever since. Nobody has been in there. Nobody!"

W2 MR JOLLY

"Ivy Chen was at my ice-cream van from half past twelve until one o'clock. She was writing about my new flavour, Bramble Ripple, for the Conkerbury Chronicle. She tried all six free samples. Twice."

A1 ALFIE'S LOOKOUT

"I was by the duck pond from twelve until quarter past one, drawing the ducks. I could see the whole pond path the entire time. Nobody walked along it."

THE ELIMINATION GRIDS

Put a cross in a box when a clue rules someone (or somewhere) out. When only one row is left in each grid, you've cracked it.

WHO?	E1	E2	W2	Still in?
A Max Thornbury
B Harvey Pike
C Ivy Chen
D Ruby Okafor
E Noah Price
F Tomasz Nowak

WHERE?	W1	A1	E3	Still in?
1 Church porch
2 Boathouse
3 Hollow oak tree
4 Bandstand bench box
5 Cricket pavilion cupboard

conkerburydetectives.co.uk · Free to print and copy for home and classroom use. Not for resale.
© 2026 Inspector Cuthbert Conkerworth · The Conkerbury Detectives

MAKE YOUR ANSWER CODE

Write the code word of the person who took the kite, then the number of the hiding place. For example, if it was Tomasz in the church porch, the code would be PUDDLE1 (it wasn't!).

Check it at conkerburydetectives.co.uk/check.html (choose Free printables, then The Flying Sausage Dog). If it's wrong, the checker tells you which clue to look at again, without giving the answer away.

STUCK? HINTS

Only read one hint at a time. Try the case again after each one. Every hint gives away a little bit more.

HINT 1

Start with the footprints (E1). Look at the Shoes line on every suspect card. Cross out anyone who wasn't wearing trainers.

HINT 2

Now Ffion's measuring clue (E2): who is too short to reach the hook? Then read Mr Jolly's statement (W2). Only one suspect is left!

HINT 3

For the hiding place, use the map. Mr Fenwick (W1) rules out one place, Alfie (A1) rules out the places you can only reach by the pond path, and E3 rules out anywhere shorter than 1.8 m.

FFION: "Top tip: do the WHO grid first, then the WHERE grid. And measure twice, cross out once!"

DETECTIVE'S NOTES

© 2026 Inspector Cuthbert Conkerworth · The Conkerbury Detectives

ANSWER PAGE

CASE CLOSED

No peeking! Only read this page once you've made your answer code, or if you're totally stuck after all three hints.

THE ANSWER: DRIZZLE5

Noah Price took Sir Biscuit and hid him in the cricket pavilion cupboard (place 5).

1. E1, the footprints: the person wore trainers. Max and Harvey wore wellies and Ruby wore smart shoes, so they're all in the clear.
2. E2, the high hook: you had to be at least 130 cm tall. Tomasz is only 124 cm, so he couldn't reach. In the clear.
3. W2, Mr Jolly: Ivy was at the ice-cream van the whole time, from 12.30 to 1.00. In the clear.
4. That leaves Noah Price: trainers ✓, 134 cm ✓, nobody saw him ✓. His code word is DRIZZLE.
5. Where? W1: the church porch (1) was locked. A1: nobody used the pond path, so not the boathouse (2) or the hollow oak (3). E3: the bench box (4) is only 1.5 m long, too short for a 1.8 m kite. Only the cricket pavilion cupboard (5) is left, and at 2.2 m it is long enough.

WHAT HAPPENED NEXT

Biscuit marched straight to the cricket pavilion, sniffed the cupboard door and sat down. Inside, safe and dry, was Sir Biscuit the Magnificent.

Noah went red. "Did you know the forecast said seventy per cent chance of rain at one o'clock?" he said. "Tissue paper goes soggy in rain. I hid him in the dry so he wouldn't get ruined. I was going to tell Mrs Lark, but then I saw a cloud shaped like a teapot."

It didn't rain at all. At two o'clock, Sir Biscuit the Magnificent flew higher than every other kite on the green and won Best in Show. The real Biscuit barked at him all afternoon, just to show who was boss.

FOR GROWN-UPS

This case is an exclusive extra, written for this free file: it isn't in either book. Every case is checked by computer, so there is exactly one answer and it can be reached from the clues alone.

If your young detective enjoyed it, The Case of the Missing Conker Champion has 30 more cases in the same style, from easy Rookie cases to tricky Inspector ones: https://www.amazon.co.uk/dp/B0HQ1LMJGX. More free printables (no sign-up, no email) are at conkerburydetectives.co.uk/printables.html.

conkerburydetectives.co.uk · Free to print and copy for home and classroom use. Not for resale.
© 2026 Inspector Cuthbert Conkerworth · The Conkerbury Detectives

OFFICIAL CERTIFICATE

CASE CLOSED!

This is to certify that

_____

has solved

THE CASE OF THE FLYING SAUSAGE DOG

and is now an official Junior Detective of Conkerbury.

_____
Date

Inspector C. Conkerworth
Inspector Cuthbert Conkerworth

conkerburydetectives.co.uk · Free to print and copy for home and classroom use. Not for resale.
© 2026 Inspector Cuthbert Conkerworth · The Conkerbury Detectives